THE

Pemican

High School, High Point, North Carolina

F O R E W O R D

The 1957 edition of the Pemican has been published with one purpose: to capture a year between its covers. Although life at High Point High School consists of many things too intangible to portray, there are many events—some bright and some not so bright—some sunshine and some shadows—that we should like to record. In the years to come we may recall these events—joyous and otherwise—by thumbing through these memorable pages.

At the noon hour students discuss next period's test as they wait for the gong to sound.

DEDICATED to

Dr. Charles Taylor, head of the Music Department of High Point High School, whom we esteem for his integrity, admire for his un-failing energy and sincerity, and honor for his service. His inspirational music has brought sunshine into the hearts and lives of many.

May this dedication of the 1957 Pemican express in some measure our appreciation for the outstanding service he has rendered to High Point High School.

Here's a school we love ...

Always, forever,...

These students demonstrate their interest in growth and progress by watching the construction of the new gymnasium.

Coming events cast their shadows before them.
Vacation time will soon be here.

True blue as the skies above

Mighty and fervent, ever

Vicki Van Liere, Betty Black, and Audray Carter, new students at High Point High School, have made prominent places for themselves in the student body.

Miss Frances Haywood, guidance director, gives Francis Dutton some helpful advice concerning his school activities.

Sandra Mullis poses for her individual picture. The making of individual portraits of the student body is one of the first big events of the school year.

“What does this building mean to me?” These dedicatory words, imbedded in marble, point to a school founded upon ideals.

Silence and Solitude prevail when “day is done.”

Another day begins with an atmosphere of friendliness.

Dear High Point High School

These Juniors struggle for knowledge which will help them in the future.

For you we love to fight...

Gerald Pierce and Cary Bennett arrive on the scene to find Otis Hines with the situation well in hand.

And when the battle's on

Coach Simeon speculates on the outcome of Friday's game as he watches the team at practice.

We're there to win the fray ...

Members of the Bison team pass through the "portals"

And when our boys are on the field,

The Cheer Leaders did their part to inspire the Bison at the Homecoming Game with Greensboro.

With cheers our love we'll pay ...

The High Point High School band leads the way in the 1956 Homecoming Parade.

The glories of a day like this will

These scientific-minded students confer with a representative of North Carolina State College about plans for the future.

ne'er be spent in vain... For dear old

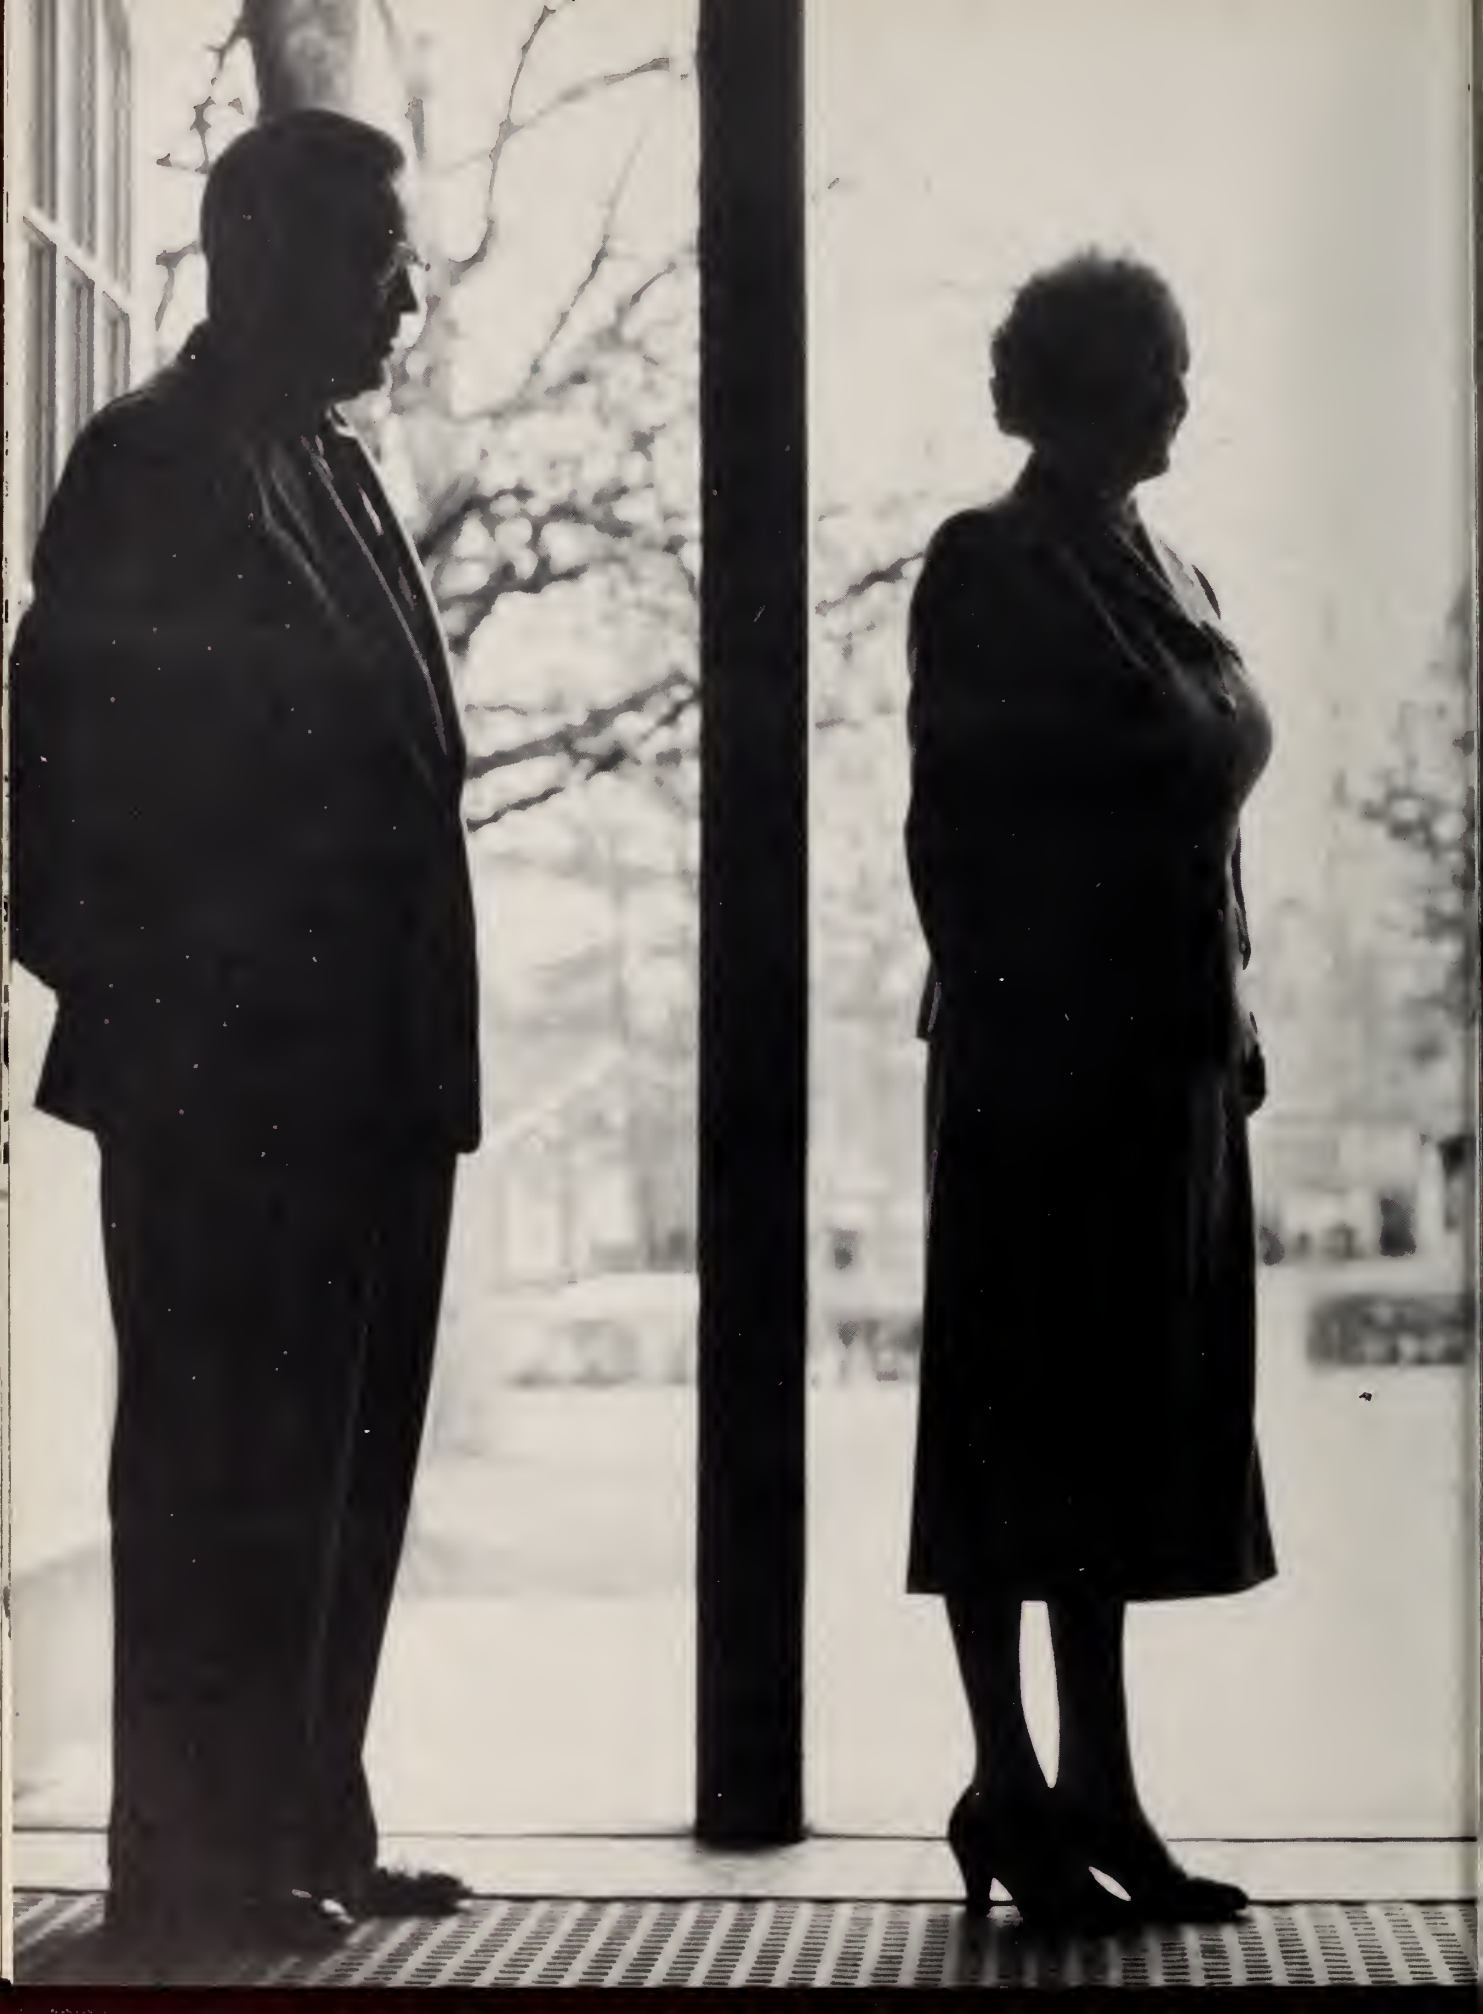

Members of the High Point High School football team exhibited both skill and courage in the hard-fought Greensboro game.

High Point High School's team

Gerald Pierce and Gary Bennett, gridiron co-captains, pledge their co-operation with Coach Simeon before the big game.

Will ne'er go down in shame.

Our administrative leaders and our instructors have guided us through the sunshine and shadows of a busy year. They have kept us on the right path through expert counseling; they have led us to acquire knowledge; they have encouraged us when difficulties and disappointments came. The result of their valuable training and guidance is apparent now in excellent student development. Their work will live on through the years to come.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. W. A. Tomlinson
Chairman of the Board

Mrs. Evelyn Thompson
Treasurer of the Board

We Salute . . .

The High Point City Board of Education

The operation of High Point City Schools is under the supervision of a specially selected school board. These civic-minded citizens form a strong link between the city school system and the community. Working together with Dr. Dean B. Pruette, Superintendent of City Schools, the board members spend many hours planning for our welfare.

MEMBERS OF THE BOARD

Mr. D. A. Rawley

Mr. R. M. Campbell

Mr. W. H. Marlette

Dr. Dean B. Pruette, superintendent of High Point City Schools, is recognized for his outstanding leadership in educational fields.

Through expert supervision Principal D. P. Whitley keeps High Point High School running smoothly.

Mr. Ralph H. Vance, dean of boys, is always on the job helping students with their problems.

Miss Frances Haywood, dean of girls and director of guidance, assists students with choices of curricula and with college plans.

Mrs. Johnsie Jackson

Because of her pleasing smile, her patience, and her understanding, Mrs. Johnsie Jackson is a favorite member of the office staff. Mrs. Jackson's versatility enables her to do many varied tasks.

The girls of the General Office staff serve their school with efficiency and with dispatch. In addition to answering telephones, giving information, and carrying messages, they assist with the financial records.

Efficient and well-organized Office

Mrs. Doris Teague, assistant secretary, is always ready to assist students with their transcripts and other records. In fact, she "specializes" in preparing college transcripts for seniors. What is more, she renders all this service with a happy smile.

The girls in the Deans' offices do valuable work for the school. They issue sick slips, help with attendance records, and run countless errands.

Mrs. Doris Teague

encourage independent study.

Proving that he is a great help in more ways than one, Mr. Whitley sweeps the steps in preparation for taking group pictures.

Members of the Library Club serve at a tea given for teachers.

Occupied by classes, clubs and other activities, our seventy faculty members have experienced a very busy year. They contributed much of their time as advisers to our organizations, as directors of our plays and shows, and especially as the leaders in our quest for knowledge.

Mr. Palmer and Mrs. Tuck check through the office at the close of a busy school day.

Mrs. Roberts explains a chemistry experiment in preparation for the laboratory period.

English and foreign languages

The language arts—English as well as French, Latin, and Spanish—are vital parts of our school life.

In English classes we seek to improve our powers of interpretation and expression through such devices as oral reports, term papers, punctuation rules, descriptive and narrative writing and debate. We read and enjoy poetry, drama, fiction, and biography. We take part in panel discussions, make tape recordings of our speeches, and appear on radio and television programs. All the while we are becoming more aware of the beauty and flexibility of our language and of our desire to become more proficient in its use.

John Crenshaw pronounces spelling words in Senior English class for Margaret Hayworth, David Groome, Jamie Mathews, and Libby Ramsey.

create interest in other lands

These Latin students study the art of ancient Rome.

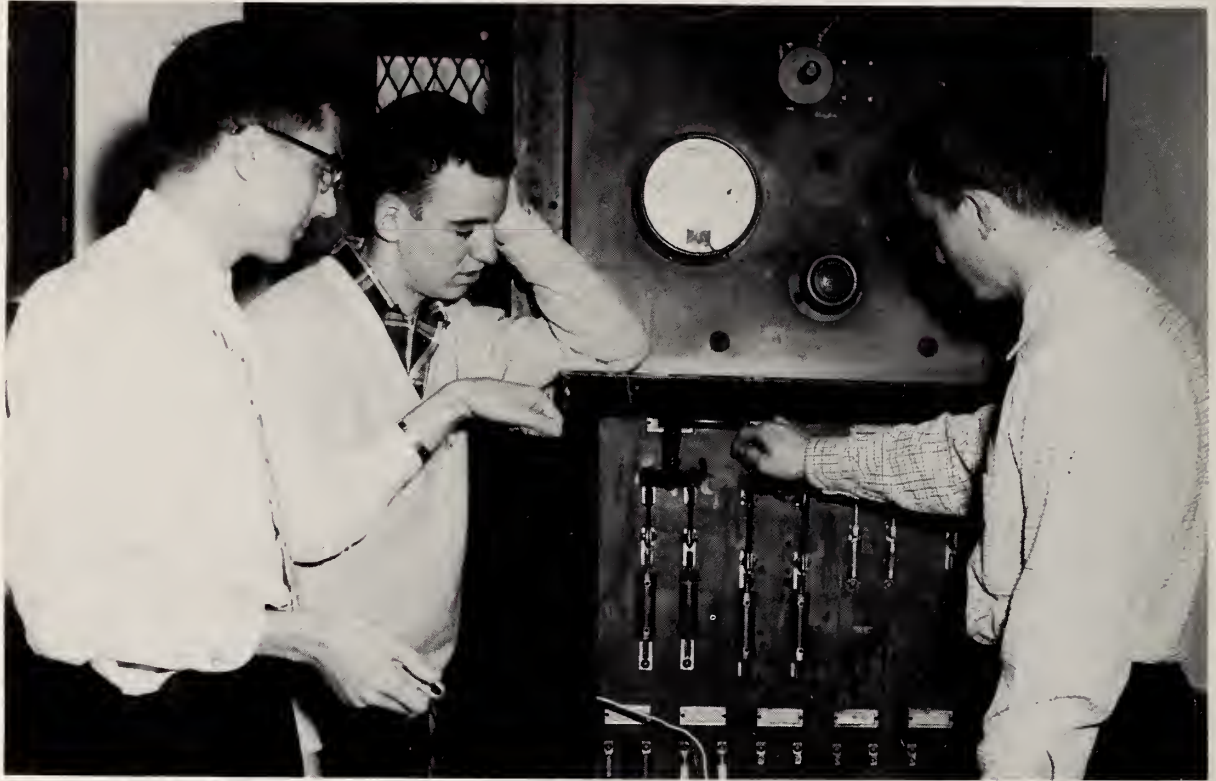

Hoping that his Spanish accent is correct, Jerry Koontz speaks into the tape recorder. Jean Armfield and Jerry Adams offer helpful comments.

Through the study of Latin we learn much concerning the habits and customs of the ancient Romans as well as their classical culture. We learn also that many of our English words are derived from Latin.

In French and Spanish classes we learn the value of being able to converse in modern languages. We study the customs of the French and Spanish peoples and realize that these two countries have contributed much to modern civilization and culture.

By precept and experimentation

Mr. Palmer, Pete Moffitt, and Tommy Hogg investigate the workings of electricity in physics class.

David Baxter demonstrates a principle of mathematics to Mrs. Stephen's geometry class.

"Have you done your algebra?" asks one student of another as they discuss mathematics lessons.

Yes, many students not only do their algebra, they find that the solving of algebra problems can be a fascinating occupation.

After the study of equations and quadratics, the student launches out into the realm of geometry, with its formal designs and figures. Later he may delve into the sines and tangents of trigonometry; and finally he may meet a real intellectual challenge in the advanced algebra course.

we learn Math and Science

Because science plays such an important part in our modern life, the Science department of High Point High School strives to teach us how to make the most of the things we have around us. It endeavors to inspire us to find careers in the field of science where so many people are needed to fulfill the demands of a growing civilization. It seeks to stimulate thought, to develop the scientific attitude, and to encourage experimentation. After completing the science courses, we go forth with a greater knowledge of the seemingly everyday things around us.

In a biology class experiment, Larry Willett, Donald Petree, Judy Ijames, Miss Rose Smith, and Wyonie Craddock study chlorophyll and its relation to plant life.

The Homemaking Education Program attempts to prepare students for effective home living. It tries to help girls to understand better their personal development and their contribution toward happy, wholesome family life today as the background for well adjusted families of tomorrow.

Emphasis is placed throughout the instructional program on health, creating and appreciating beauty, democratic ways of working together, management of resources—time, energy, and money—as well as the mechanics of housekeeping.

Home Economics

These Home Economics students learn about the workings of a clothes dryer.

The areas included in the curriculum are food and nutrition, clothing, family economics, housing, health, family relations and child development.

The development of the home experience is an activity by which the student has opportunity to work independently toward the solution of personal or home living problems in the home with the guidance and help of the teacher. The results are most effective when the student, the teacher, and the family work cooperatively toward the solution.

The Industrial Arts Department can well be called the department with a purpose. Besides giving boys training in basic skills, it builds character and develops a feeling of freedom and security. "An Education for Living in an Industrialized Democracy" could be called the motto of this department.

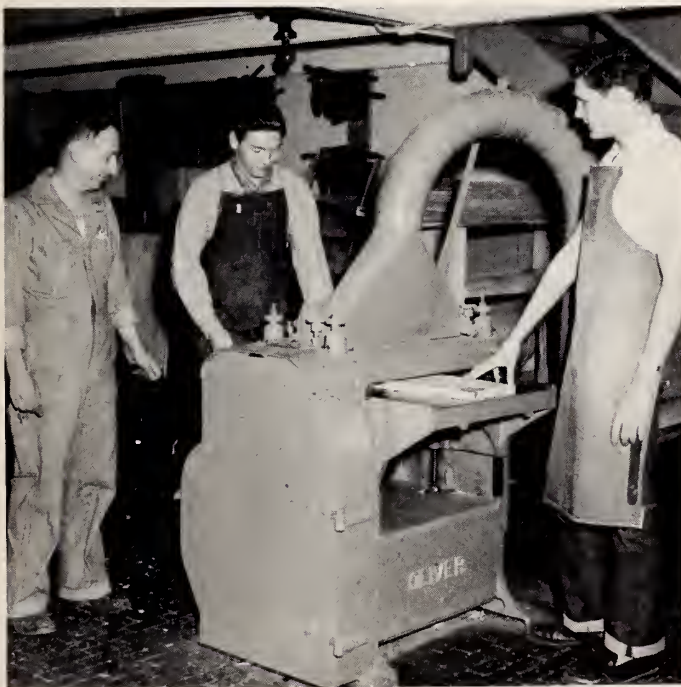

Health and safety, good craftsmanship, and knowledge of the skill itself—these are the three main objectives. Willingness on the part of the students is noticeable here because their work is enjoyable as well as useful. The demand for this type of work is great, and the boys learn to work together for their mutual benefit.

Mr. Carr advises Gary Bennett and Larry Hill concerning advanced construction in mechanical drawing.

and Shop spur creativeness

Mr. Whitesell watches Marvin Richard and Dallas Campbell use the surfacer, a machine that makes boards smooth.

Among the courses available at High Point High School are Metalwork, Mechanical Drawing, General Shop, and Vocational Shop. Our school ranks high in competition with other schools throughout the state, carrying off several prizes each year.

To prepare students for their jobs, Vocational Shop is offered in the junior and senior years. This course gives the students an opportunity to earn credits while actually gaining experience. They remain in the shop for half a day.

Truly the Industrial Arts Departments "builds boys." In its classes are men of tomorrow, each learning to contribute his share in order to better himself and his country.

Gerry Vuncannon locates on the map a city in France for Larry Brown, Rosalee Barley, and Bill Sumner, members of Mrs. Dobson's geography class.

Social Studies re-create the past

Social studies at High Point High School include civics, world history, American history, and problems of American democracy. In all these courses there are many purposeful activities, including outside readings, historical movies, and oral reports.

Current affairs as well as past events and lessons furnish topics for class discussions. The news magazine "Our Times" provides a background for understanding the major issues of today.

The purpose of these activities is to broaden the outlook of students; to give a knowledge of the past in order to give a better understanding of the present; and to help the students make intelligent decisions later when the responsibilities of citizenship rest upon them.

In Miss Lindsay's American history class Jo Anne Dorr uses a map to make the annexation of Texas real to Sam Snider, Marion Murdock, and Jerry Hughes.

In the World history class Albert Alexander points out to Barbara Neal and Vicki Smith the route traveled by the Crusaders.

We plan ahead in Business Education

Ambitious to become able secretaries, Rhonda Overman, Sylvia Newton, and Louise Williams apply themselves diligently in shorthand class.

Second year typing students Donese Buchanan and Dot Carrick run off a stencil as part of their training.

Furnished with good equipment and directed by capable teachers, the Business Education department works faithfully to train young people to meet the demands of the business world through courses in typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping. The department has received many compliments from the business men of the community because its students secure good positions after graduation and maintain excellent records in the business field.

Training in business has also proved valuable to the boys who have gone into military service. They are quickly assigned to positions because of their business training and experience. College preparatory students also find their business training to be of great practical value.

The Business Education department hopes to see new subjects added to the curriculum to meet the needs of business students and to prepare them for greater service.

Miss Price's typing class strives to reach the goal of one hundred words per minute.

Student Council Members serve

Miss Louise Hunter, Alice Rawlinson, Pat Flythe, and Jane Lloyd say their last farewells from the train as they leave for Tulsa, Oklahoma, to attend the Southern Student Council Convention.

Student Council members of the year 1956-1957, under the direction of Ronald Koonts and Bill Armstrong, spent a very full and useful year. Miss Louise Hunter was their adviser.

During the first semester the Council conducted homeroom panel discussions on the following topics: the qualifications of officers; the problems of Teen Age driving; and the building of civil defense. These discussions were shared by students from other schools.

As a special project the Council sponsored a Teacher Appreciation Day. They sent fruit and wrote notes of appreciation to the teachers. On several occasions they served cokes at faculty meetings.

Other services included the sale of Christmas cards, book covers, school pennants, and savings stamps, and the direction of the Talent Show.

The Council sent representatives to the State conference in Wilmington; to the Southern association in Tulsa, Oklahoma; and to the National convention in Toledo, Ohio.

Throughout the busy year of activity a spirit of co-operation prevailed. Thus the Student Council served "to establish and maintain a higher moral standard, to develop leadership and intelligent 'followship,' to insure a spirit of democracy, to promote a closer relationship between the faculty and the student body, to create a respect and ambition for higher scholastic attainments, and to encourage co-operation and participation of students in all school activities."

Bill Armstrong, Student Council vice-president; Jane Lloyd, secretary; and Ronald Koonts, president, led the student body through a successful year.

with efficiency and distinction

These two students silhouetted against a classroom window symbolize life at High Point High School. They represent the classes, the class officers, and the class advisers whose portraits appear in this division of our book. They recall to us the various programs and projects undertaken by the classes, and the skill with which these undertakings were achieved. In addition, they typify the hopes and ambitions of each individual student in our school.

CLASSES

John Blackburn, president of the Senior Class; Ann Culclasure, secretary; Robert Davis, vice-president; and Libby Ramsey, treasurer, led the seniors through a highly successful year.

The Senior Class . . . 1957

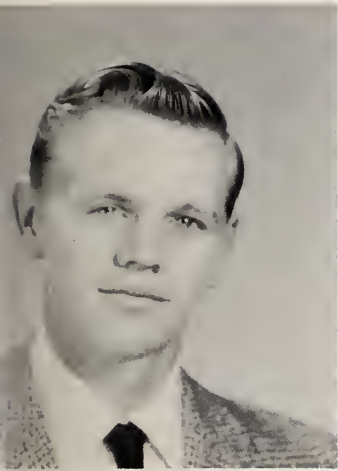

The seniors of 1957 have much to remember. The first day at Senior High School, the stationery sales, the Junior and Senior plays, the induction into the Beta Club and the National Honor Society—all these are fond memories of days well spent and duties well performed.

The seniors especially remember their work to make the Senior Banquet and the Junior-Senior prom a great success. All these activities culminated in the final goal of the year—graduation.

Mr. Harry Hendrick, Senior Class adviser, helped to make the last year at High Point High the best. He and the Junior Class adviser worked together to make the Junior-Senior Prom an outstanding success.

Best All Round

A combination of the best things—friendliness, intelligence, good citizenship, character, and service—gives Margaret Beamon and John Blackburn the high places of Best All Round students at High Point High School.

Ronald Koonts and Louella Kidd have shown by their executive ability, their devotion to duty, and their leadership in school activities that they are the Most Likely to Succeed.

Most Likely to Succeed

Best Personality

Friendly, good-natured, fun-loving, helpful, unselfish—these are the qualities which have given Vicki Smith and Bill Armstrong top honors in the 1957 contest for Best Personality.

Good looks plus personality—these are the terms that describe Rhonda Overman and Nathan Yarber, who were chosen the Best Looking members of the Senior Class at High Point High School.

Best Looking

Friendliest

Always ready with a cheerful word and a friendly smile, Libby Ramsey and Bill Snider were easy winners in the contest for the Friendliest students at High Point High. They add many a bright note in a school day.

The title of Best Dressed in the Class of 1957 was conferred upon Sylvia Newton and Marvin Slate. Their selection of the latest styles in cashmere and tweed proves that the title was well bestowed.

Best Dressed

Most Athletic

Ken Prosser and Claudean Fulk were voted Most Athletic by their classmates. These star athletes excel not only in sports but also in other phases of life at High Point High School.

Chuck Wood and Betsy Davis can always be depended upon for a funny joke or a clever comment. Since the antics of these two kept everyone laughing, it was easy to choose them as Wittiest at High Point High School.

W i t t i e s t

The Mascots who will lead the graduating class are Sherry Warner and Frosty Culp. Sherry, who is a vocalist, was sponsored by Sanders Dallas; and Frosty, who is a crooner, was sponsored by Louella Kidd.

The Senior Executive Board has rendered invaluable service to the Senior class this year. The Board is composed of a representative from each Senior home-room and Mr. Harry Hendrick, adviser of the class. The Executive Board plans the class meetings and the elections of class officers and mascots, and directs such activities as the senior banquet and the Junior-Senior prom.

Frosty Culp and Sherry Warner, Mascots, will lead the Senior Class on Graduation Day.

on prominent Seniors

Eileen McIlvaine pins the garnet and gold ribbon on Wyndham Wilkinson at the fall induction of the National Honor Society, while Dot Carrick, Martha Cheves, Hazel Jones, and Marilyn Guyer wait their turns.

Seventeen of High Point High School's top seniors have been named to the "Who's Who." These students were selected for the honor by the teachers. They include five per cent of the Senior class—those who qualify in scholarship and leadership. They are Libby Ramsey, Margaret Haworth, Betty Parker, Bob Chastain, Reed Fisher, Louella Kidd, Kinney Bales, John Blackburn, Vicki Smith, Bill Armstrong, Betty Jo Whitesell, Ronald Koonts, Margaret Beamon, Gerald Pierce, Wyndham Wilkinson, Buddy Sotherly, and Jamie Mathews.

The days of long ago are vividly re-created through the theme, "Song of the South," as students dance at the Junior-Senior Prom.

Gary Bennett and Jerry Webb patiently wait for the 8:30 bell.

The scenes portrayed on this page form a kind of cross section of life at High Point High School. Social life, class and club activities, Senior mascots, and snapshots of idle moments and just plain loafing—all these are recorded for your information and enjoyment.

Nancy Moran coaxes her candidate for mascot to perform.

These chemistry students watch the progress of an experiment showing the reaction of sodium with water.

Phyllis Harmon and Mary Wray Mitchell concentrate on developing skill in typing.

Bobby Chastain, president of the High Point Beta Club, inducts eligible Juniors and Seniors.

Bobby Chastain and Louella Kidd are innocent observers of the "drowning" of Vicki Smith by Bill Armstrong.

David Baxter, Bill Armstrong, and Ronald Koonts take a break during the busy day to patronize our new orange juice machine.

The Junior Class

The juniors had a variety of experiences during 1956-57. Besides their usual class meetings, class elections, and fund-raising campaigns, they had time to take part in many extra-curricular programs.

Major activities of the class included the presentation of the comedy, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," directed by Miss Frances Haywood, and the never-to-be-forgotten Junior-Senior prom.

For several years Miss Elizabeth Lindsay has served faithfully and efficiently as class adviser. Her main duties consist in helping the class with the Junior play and with the Junior-Senior prom.

The Sophomore Class

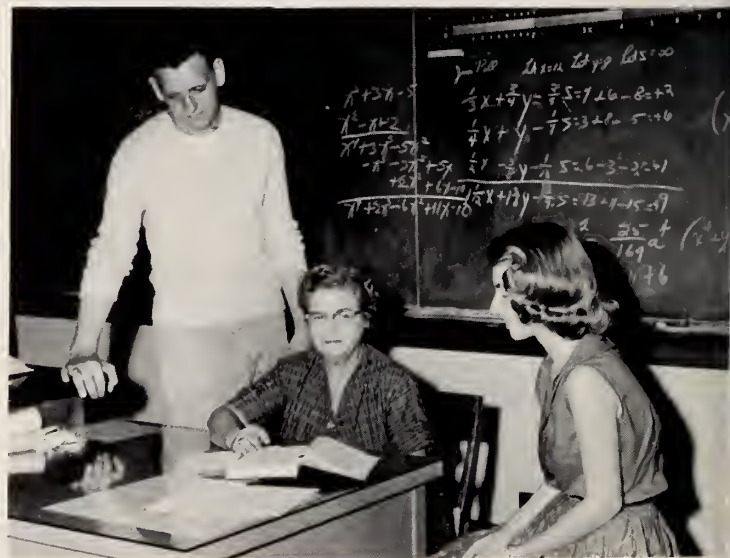

The sophomores, with enthusiasm as their key word, can now look back on a very excellent year. Their officers co-operated well with the sponsor and led the class members in several worthwhile endeavors.

To obtain funds, the sophomores conducted their annual magazine campaign with very successful results. The funds were used to finance the class projects.

The crowning social event of the sophomore year was the class prom, directed by the sponsor and the sophomore homeroom teachers.

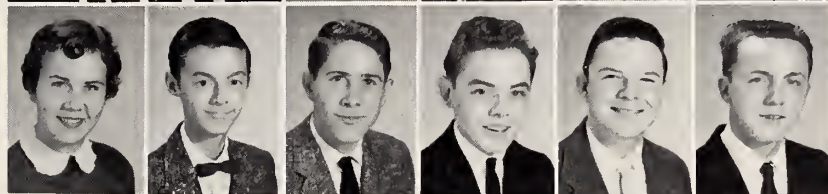

Mrs. Florence Shaw was adviser to the Sophomore class during 1956-57. Under the able direction of Mrs. Shaw, the class continued to make progress both in academic work and in extra-curricular activities.

The Freshman Class

The class members demonstrated their ability to adjust quickly to their initial year at High Point High School. They proved their powers by doing good academic work, by co-operating fully with their class sponsor and homeroom teachers, and by taking their parts as useful citizens in the high school program.

The freshmen were fortunate to have as their adviser for the year 1956-57, Mr. Kenneth Mann, teacher of Vocational Shop. Mr. Mann, a capable, experienced adviser, guided the class successfully through their class meetings and elections, their projects to raise funds, and their various extra-curricular activities.

School activities have a twofold purpose—to enable us to have fun and to teach us to accept responsibility and work co-operatively. Whether the work was a club project, a reporting task on Pemican or Pointer, a role in a musical program, or a sideline participation at games, we felt a sense of fellowship with our classmates.

So, toiling, rejoicing — through sunshine and shadows—we come to the close of our school year.

ACTIVITIES

THE 1957 PEMICAN STAFF

Weeks and months of toil, late hours, and fun have gone into the publication of the 1957 Pemican. It has been our purpose to record faithfully the events of the year 1956-1957.

The staff worked diligently at taking and identifying pictures; writing copy, headings and cutlines; selling and advertising and typing write-ups, to meet their deadlines. Each member had his own task to perform, but the directing forces of the duties were Editor-in-Chief Betty Parker, Associate Editor Dot Carrick, and Business Manager Barbara Neal. We also give to Miss Louise Tapp credit for advising us in the preparation of our 1957 yearbook.

THE 1956-57 POINTER STAFF

Combining their talents for uncovering news with originality and writing ability, the Pointer staff publishes ten issues of the school paper a year. With Miss Eleanor Young as adviser and Margaret Haworth as editor-in-chief, the editorial staff works from news day until press time to furnish adequate coverage of the news.

Supplying the paper with financial support, the Pointer business staff under the direction of Mrs. Lyda Sowers, adviser, and Libby Ramsey, manager, are constantly on the job selling advertising.

Miss Eleanor Young, editorial adviser to the Pointer; Margaret Haworth, editor-in-chief, and Betty Chard, associate editor; draw a layout for the front page of the next edition.

The Pointer

Mrs. Lyda Sowers, business adviser to the Pointer, and Libby Ramsey, business manager, map out their plans for the year.

To be eligible for membership in the National Honor Society, a student must be superior in character, scholarship, leadership, and service. The members are inducted into the organization in an impressive tapping service.

The installation of fruit juice vending machines was the major project of the year. Other projects included the sale of stationery and calling cards.

With Miss Mourane as adviser, the group assisted the Beta Club with the College Day program. In addition, the National Honor Society established a scholarship loan fund.

Albea Chafin, president of the Student Council, received the National Honor Society Service Award in recognition of his outstanding service to the school. Linda Groome, former winner of the trophy, made the presentation.

Beta Club

These officers of the Beta Club—Bob Chastain, president; Dot Carrick, secretary; Emily Hester, treasurer; and Buddy Snotherly, vice-president—have led the club in many activities.

The main objective of the Beta Club is to recognize scholarship and to establish and maintain it throughout high school. Miss Geneva Highfill has served as adviser this year.

Juniors with a 92 average and seniors with a 90 average were inducted during the fall semester. This year the second largest number of students in Beta Club history became members of the club.

Among the projects undertaken by the Beta Club was the co-sponsorship with the National Honor Society of the College Day program.

strives to uphold scholarship

New members of the Beta Club pledge to uphold the standards of achievement, character, and service.

Key Club diligently serves school

The High Point Key Club, sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club, has again this year been one of the most active school organizations. Much credit for Key Club success is due to the faculty adviser, Mr. Tommy Woollen, and to the Kiwanis adviser, Mr. Porter Hauser.

The main purpose of the club is service to both the school and the community. In order to fulfill this primary function, the Key Club has completed many projects this year. Its members sold advertising and compiled names and addresses for the publication of their annual project, the High School Directory; and at all home football games the Key Club sold programs for the purpose of supporting the Athletic Fund. Other activities included serving at College Day, helping at pep rallies, and the raising and lowering of the flag each day.

The making, selling, and delivering of wreaths during Christmas proved to be both a money-making project and a service to the community.

This year for the first time the Key Club has had the honor of becoming a member of the High Point Inter-Club Council.

Pete Moffitt, president of the Key Club; Robert Davis, treasurer; Albert Alexander, secretary; and Reed Fisher, vice-president, discuss plans for the High School Directory.

Reed Fisher, Richard Barrett, Tommy Stout, and Pete Moffitt, members of the Key Club, sell football programs to Carole Griffin, Linda Horney, Jupy Thomas, and Carolyn Dillon at one of the games.

The purpose of the Masque and Gavel is to encourage the use of good speech in school, church, and community. Those students who show an interest in speech and speech activities are recommended by their teachers and are inducted into the club. The inductions are held once a year. Miss Ruth Goodman is the adviser of the club.

and Gavel promotes good speech

The Y-Teens provide an opportunity for social activity and community service for Senior High girls. The clubs meet once a week and have their own advisers. The Inter-club Council, composed of two members from each grade, co-ordinates the activities of the clubs. Y-Teen activities include social dances and programs on understanding religious groups. Their main project was the purchase of a loud speaker for the Y. W. C. A.

The Hi-Y clubs encourage the development of character and the promotion of Christian ideals. As a practical project for the encouragement of clean speech, clean thinking, and clean living, they distributed to the student body a number of blotters containing appropriate quotations from the Bible.

They also conducted regular programs and sponsored several social events during the school year. Mr. Jim Ensign was the adviser.

F. H. A.

The Future Homemakers of America is a National Organization composed of students who are studying homemaking in junior and senior high schools all over the United States. The club members have a meeting once each month. During meetings they plan projects, parties, and suppers. They also conduct cake and pie sales in order to raise funds for their projects.

The club brings together groups interested in better home and family living. An incorporated non-profit youth organization, it came into being through the co-operative efforts of the many girls enrolled in homemaking courses. The development of social qualities and the improvement of home life are stressed. Mrs. Mozelle K. Williams has served as adviser during 1956-57.

This year's officers of the F. H. A. have done their best to direct their club smoothly and efficiently. Front row: Sylvia Misenheimer, parliamentarian; Brenda Rich, song leader. Second row: Judy Angley, president; Judy Draughn, vice-president; Judy Tysinger, treasurer. Third row: Becky McGuire, secretary; Penny Smith, historian; Shirley Boles, reporter.

F. T. A.

The purpose of the Future Teachers of America is to promote interest in the field of teaching. In their group work the Future Teachers stress the importance of teaching and call attention to the growing scarcity of teachers. One of the interesting events of the club year was the observation of primary students at Tomlinson Elementary School. Each club member was privileged to observe the grade in which she was most interested. Two other projects of the club consisted of services rendered at Parent-Teacher meetings and at College Day. The Future Teachers co-operated with the Beta Club and the National Honor Society in planning College Day. Miss Mary Elizabeth Lyons is adviser.

Leading the F. T. A. with enthusiasm, these officers have made their club outstanding: Betty Whitesell, president; Laura Jean Malpass, program chairman; Eileen McIlvaine, secretary; Alice Rawlinson, vice-president; Carolyn Dillon, historian.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

Future Business Leaders of America Club offers guidance to students interested in a business career. Every member of the High Point Chapter also belongs to the state and national organizations. The main service of the group has been to render clerical assistance to teachers. Miss Ruth Price is the adviser.

The National Forensic League promotes interest in speech and offers valuable experience in debating, public speaking, and other phases of speech work. Recently, at the district meeting, awards were made to the following students: Jerry Pell, most outstanding speaker's award; Pat Flythe, gold gavel lapel pin for presiding over the House; and J. T. Hicks, an award for being a superior speaker. The debating team is composed of National Forensic League members. Mrs. Rachel Roberts is adviser to the group.

RADIO GUILD

The Radio Guild promotes interest in all fields of radio work. Program Chairman Jerry Pell directs and plans many interesting programs, while Station Manager John Blackburn arranges the programs and makes sure that they go on the air at the right time.

David Baxter, chief announcer, has the duty of announcing programs and station breaks; Henry Marshall, chief engineer, operates the mechanical devices in the radio room. Mr. William Palmer is faculty sponsor of the Radio Guild.

Station WHPS operates at 89.3 megacycles.

Library Club encourages study

With Mrs. Nancy Poston as adviser, the Library Club worked diligently to achieve its goals. The main purpose of the club is to encourage members to enter the field of library science. During the year the members held joint meetings with Allen Jay, Trinity, and Thomasville clubs; also they attended district and state meetings.

Under the direction of Adviser A. J. Simeon, our lettermen work as members of the Monogram Club to promote good sportsmanship and to develop character.

The club performed the following services this year: selling ice cream and drinks at the basketball games and awarding a trophy to the best athletic competitor.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

One of the most active organizations at High Point High School is Le Cercle Francais, an enthusiastic group of first and second year French students. Helping to stimulate an interest in the culture of France, this group enjoys monthly meetings where they participate in interesting programs on literature, art, and music.

Led by Miss Mary McDavid, they observed Modern Language Week by the use of bulletin boards and posters. Le Cercle Francais does much to round out our school's extra-curricular program.

LOS AMIGOS

Los Amigos, High Point High's Spanish Club, meets once a month. The goal of the club is to create interest in the Spanish language. At Christmas they entertained Miss Maxalynn Mourane, their sponsor, and her Spanish classes with a traditional party. The main feature of the party was the breaking of the pinata, a decorated paper bag filled with candy.

They made a study of Cuba at their meeting during National Romance Language Week. Paul Moss and David Baxter showed slides and gave talks.

The Distributive Education program at High Point High School has been planned in order to provide classroom instruction in addition to on-the-job training and supervision for those of our students who wish to plan for a career in one of the many branches of the distributive field. With this particular type of training, these students have two choices after graduation: They may go on to college for advanced work in the Business Administration field, the Retailing field, the Advertising field, and other related work; or if they wish, it is possible for them to go directly into full time positions after graduation.

Curtis Hedgecock and Ramona Newton show a poster expressing the purpose of the D. E. Club.

All of the Distributive Education students are members of the local, the State, and the National Distributive Education Clubs, and the students participate in the various conventions sponsored by these clubs.

One of the main attractions of the High Point High School Distributive Education Club is the Annual Bosses' Banquet. At this banquet each member of the club entertains his boss at a dinner in order to express gratitude and appreciation for the help and guidance which all the students have received with on-the-job training.

D. O. Club

These officers led the D. O. Club in a successful year of acquiring skills. They are Gayle Haynes, president; A. C. Craver, vice-president; Jimmy Kimble, treasurer; and Wayne Hampton, secretary.

Diversified Occupations involves an arrangement by which various firms in High Point co-operate with the high school by giving part-time employment and instruction to certain students. These students are also given classroom instruction in the various types of work that interest them. Through this system, the students learn not only from books but also through experience. Classroom instruction furnishes the students with technical subject matter related to the various jobs being learned. The school also provides a supervisor who visits the students during their outside training hours. The duty of this supervisor is to furnish related study material for the students.

Learning the basic principles of commercial art may not be easy, but Colon Cox works hard to master them.

Working on a car engine may seem to be far removed from the ordinary school task, but these D. O. boys find it useful in their course.

This training furnishes the opportunity for students to learn advanced technical trades while still in high school. Upon graduation many of the students continue to work in the establishments where they have been trained. To illustrate the many fields covered by Diversified Occupations, the jobs vary from commercial artist to automobile mechanic.

The word "diversified" is used because only one person supervises the studies in all these different occupations. Each of the students follows a course of study which has been arranged for his chosen occupation. Mr. Bruce Roberts has acted as adviser this year.

Besides entertaining the crowds at all the football games, the High Point High School band played in the winter and spring concerts, marched in the Christmas parade, and took part in the Easter Sunrise Service.

Band members competed in the North Carolina solo and ensemble contest and in the State band contest festival. They also played at the Wake Forest-North Carolina state freshman football game.

One of the highlights of the year was the performance of the band at the Lions' International Convention in Miami, Florida.

Mr. David Carter is director of the band.

Athletics at High Point High School during the year 1956-57 has presented a pattern of sunshine and shadows. There have been victories, and there have been defeats. Always, however, we have had the joy and satisfaction of knowing that we played the game in a sportsmanlike manner and that we truly learned "to meet Triumph and Disaster and to treat those two imposters just the same."

Morris Motley, who has proved his ability to serve, is a valuable asset to the athletic department. Better known to his friends as "Moose," he is always eager to flash a winning smile and to lend a helping hand. Morris has served as manager for the varsity football and varsity basketball teams for the past three years and has also worked in the athletic office. In addition, he has served as baseball manager. For all this and more, Morris will be remembered at High Point High School.

Fit Bison Team for Gridiron

With a record of two wins and eight losses High Point's Black Bison closed the '56 football season. Although the season might not be considered a victorious one, the Bison thrilled the fans with a number of close games.

REIDSVILLE: The Bison completely outclassed a mighty Reidsville eleven, 6-0, to get the season off to a roaring start. Paydirt was reached the second play of the fourth quarter when Otis Hines bulled over from the one yard line, climaxing a 75-yard drive begun in the last of the third period.

GASTONIA: In the opening Western AAA contest the Bison yielded to the Green Wave by a score of 26-13. Moments after Richard Kemp scored the first TD for the Bison, Ken Hedrick completed a pass to Kiser, who scooted past Gastonia's secondary for a 66 yard score.

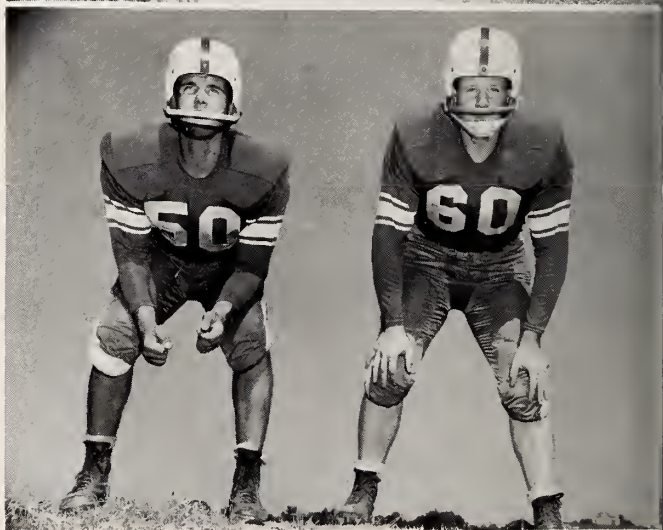

DURHAM: The story of the High Point-Durham contest lies in the success of a bruising Bulldog running attack and a potent aerial bombardment. Durham exploded for touchdowns in each of the last three periods to hand the Black Bison their second straight defeat of the year, 18-0.

BURLINGTON: Coach Simeon's High Point Black Bison, demonstrating a bone-crushing line play and a hard-running backfield, capitalized on a first period Burlington fumble to gain a 6-0 victory over the Burlington team in a Western AAA Conference contest.

LEXINGTON: The Bison, scoring two touchdowns—one in the second period and one in the fourth—narrowed the Yellow Jacket's lead by eight points. However, the Bison were unable to hold back the powerful Lexington squad, and the final score stood at 26-12.

SALISBURY: Completely dominating the score throughout the first half, the Bison led by seven points. The climax came in the fourth period when the High Pointers were penalized for roughing. Capitalizing on this tremendous break, Salisbury went on to score a 14-7 victory.

CHARLOTTE: It was a case of fumbles, penalties, and a lack of offensive punch that cost the Bison Eleven a victory over the Wildcats. Charlotte Central managed to score seven points in the second period and six in the third, to defeat High Point, 13-0.

ASHEVILLE: Playing on a slippery turf, the High Point team was unable to keep the Maroon Devils from scoring a 19-0 lead in the first half. The second half saw little action, with Lee Edwards scoring only two first downs, and the Bison none.

GREENSBORO: The High Point Black Bison's showing against the undefeated and championship-bound Whirlies was labeled by sports writers as the Bison's best performance since a 13-0 upset over Asheville in the '55 season. In the last minutes of the game it looked as if the Bison might score that all-important touchdown, but bad breaks and the time element cost the Bison a victory over the Whirlies. The final score was 12-6.

REYNOLDS: Victory proved to be an elusive thing for the High Pointers as they wrote the last chapter of the 1956 season. The Bison were weak offensively, but a strong defensive play coupled with the line backers proved difficult for the Demons to crack. Reynolds held possession of the ball throughout the third period, and therein lies the reason for their 12-7 victory.

Black Bison ballhandling brings

In the closing weeks of the 1956-57 basketball season the Bison were headed for the State Tournament, having maintained a third place rating in the Western AAA Conference play. The team, under the leadership of co-captains Buddy Joines and Roy Leach, and the coaching skill of A. J. Simeon, demonstrated excellent ball-playing throughout the season.

The High Point Cagers started the season at a slow pace, losing the first three games to non-conference teams; but the superior ball-handling of the Black Bison became evident as they found the path to victory and posted a 7-3 record in conference play, with four games remaining in the current season.

“The sun shines brightly although the shadows lengthen” is an appropriate description of the features of our volume. We look back with sheer pleasure and joy upon such activities as Homecoming, the class plays, the Talent Show, and the crowning event of all — the Junior-Senior Prom. These memories we shall carry with us to brighten life’s pathway until the shadows of evening truly begin to fall.

These campus beauties were chosen by their respective classes to act as attendants to the Queen on Homecoming Day. They are, top row: Gayle Haynes, senior attendant; Kaye Guyer, junior attendant; Judy Clodfelter, sophomore attendant; Linda Watts, freshman attendant.

Homecoming memories will linger on Homecoming Day was the most spectacular event of the football season. The classes and organizations prepared floats for the Homecoming Parade, and promptly at 2:30 in the afternoon twenty-five gaily decorated floats moved in slow procession through the main streets of the city. The Science Club float won first prize in the competition.

The gridiron contest between High Point and Greensboro drew an enthusiastic crowd and proved to be one of the best-played games of the season.

The highlight of the day's activities was the crowning of the homecoming queen, Rhonda Overman. She was attended by Gayle Haynes, Kaye Guyer, Judy Clodfelter, and Linda Watts, representatives of the senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman classes respectively.

Miss Lois Koppen and Mr. James Hayworth had charge of arrangements.

This float, sponsored by the Beta Club, won second place over the others in the parade.

Rhonda Overman reigned as queen over the Homecoming festivities.

In Appreciation . . .

Another school year has come to a close and we of the Pemican staff have reached our goal—to produce a yearbook.

There are so many who have done so much to make this book possible that it seems inadequate to just say a general “Thank you” to all of you as a group.

Mr. Whitley, we want to thank you in a very special way for all the help you gave us. You helped us to schedule pictures, you offered solutions to our numerous problems, and you even substituted as photographer in an emergency.

Thank you, Teachers, for being so patient and understanding when we missed classes and handed in our assignments late. Keeping all the records for individual pictures and Pemican subscriptions was a big job, and we appreciated your full co-operation.

Students, your help in taking and re-taking pictures and their identification was invaluable. We hope that this book will forever be a tangible preservation of your high school memories.

Staff members, we can never thank you enough for all your hard work and the late hours you spent helping when deadline time arrived. Jimmy and Roger, without you to take and develop pictures, this book wouldn't have much life. We fussed at you at times, and in some instances we may have seemed unreasonable, but both of you were so good-natured about it that we were able to smile through our woes.

Reed, Mary, and Jane, your sketches throughout the book were marvelous, and they added a little something extra, too. Bonnie, Eileen, and Bobby, you wrote reams of pages of copy and cutlines, and you took special pains to find just the right word for the occasion. Thank you, Rozetta and Jane, for identifying those mountainous piles of pictures. You took many a step finding out students' names, and we hope we didn't wear you out. Bonnie, you recorded the senior statistics with great care and exactness. Donese, Hazel, Sandy, Beth, and Fonda, you have been wonderful typists. You were so patient and never complained when pages had to be re-typed.

Members of the business staff, you also played a large part in making this book possible. We're proud of you, Francis ($342.50) and Anne ($172.50) for being our top salesmen. Thank you Bob, Jimmy, David, Ruby, Jean, Beverly, Martha, Judy, Marilyn, Phyllis, Jackie, Jerry, Jane, Mary Wray, Sylvia, Sandra, and Peggy for also selling your share; and thank you Ann, for keeping such accurate records of the ads.

Miss Tapp, as our adviser you have been the “backbone” of the whole staff. You have given us countless helpful suggestions; you were a storehouse of words and phrases when we needed help on our copy and cutlines; and you were wonderful to tolerate all our nonsense and our noise. For all this and much more, we extend our heartfelt thanks.

As a final, parting word, we say, “Thanks again to each and every one of you.”

BETTY, DOT, and BARBARA
